I respectfully recommend the passage of this general ordinance.

Yours very truly,

WALTER C. BOETCHER,
City Controller.

July 2, 1937.

Mr. Daniel J. O'Neill, Jr.,
City Clerk
Indianapolis, Indiana.

Dear Sir:

I hand you herewith eighteen copies of General Ordinance No. 47, 1937, entitled, "An ordinance providing for the registration of bicycles and the issuance of certificates of title therefor, the transfer of ownership of bicycles, the selling and painting of bicycles and parts thereof, prohibiting the mutilating or removing of registration numbers thereof, requiring presentation of certificates of title to the City Controller before issuance of bicycle licenses or making a transfer of such license, prescribing a penalty for violations thereof, and fixing a time when the same shall take effect."

This ordinance is intended to repeal General Ordinance No. 30, 1937, which provides for an unfair tax upon the children of the city of Indianapolis. While it may be considered the proper thing by some public officials to tax bicycles and baby buggies, I do not agree. The children of this city will have plenty to do to pay our future tax burdens already created by the administration and our government should at least let the kids finish their childhood without burdening them with a lot of unnecessary and foolish taxes.

Of course, we all believe in safety measures, but experience has proven that children must be educated to safety rather than legislated to safety. The thin veil of regulation as defined in the ordinance sought to be repealed, in my opinion is no more than a smoke screen for the creation of additional jobs for a few undeserving politicians.

It is not fair to tax children on the pleasures of childhood. If revenue sources are needed, why doesn't the city government stop the leaks of some of the larger taxpayers who are riding in the seat of privilege. I believe that the citizens of Indianapolis, whom you represent, are desirous of the repeal of the bicycle license ordinance. Certainly the citizens of Indianapolis have not demanded licensing of children's bicycles. The ordinance was evidently the creation of a few politicians looking for soft jobs at the expense of our kids.

Very truly yours,

EDWARD R. KEALING,
Councilman.

July 1, 1937.

City Clerk,
