September 18, 1939.

To the Honorable President and Member of the Common Council of the City of Indianapolis, Indiana.

Gentlemen:

Re: G. O. 77, 1939.

The City of Indianapolis has been involved in some litigation with reference to General Ordinance No. 75-1937. While we have prevailed and the ordinance has been upheld generally, one Section, Sec. 618, was held invalid by the courts because in it we sought to regulate two businesses, whereas, under the ordinance, only one should be regulated.

We have prepared a proposed amendment to the ordinance, which omits all those features in Sec. 618 which were held objectionable by the courts. As the matter now stands, unless your honorable body should deem it advisable to enact the proposed ordinance, which we herewith submit, the city will be without power to regulate the hours and the Sunday business of pawnbrokers.

Respectfully yours,

EDW. H. KNIGHT,
Corporation Counsel.
